

Newsletter February 2018

ISON aims to stimulate internationalisation of students in Nijmegen through cooperation of the main international student organisations of Nijmegen

AECEE Nijmegen | AIESEC Nijmegen | IFMSA Nijmegen | ISN Nijmegen | Radboud International Students | United Netherlands

From ISON's board

Dear reader,

This newsletter keeps you posted about all internationally oriented activities around Radboud university. Together with our member organisations AEGEE-Nijmegen, AIESEC-Nijmegen, IFMSA-Nijmegen, ISN Nijmegen, Radboud International Students and United Netherlands we aim to shed light on the importance of internationalization in Nijmegen!

Yours sincerely,

On behalf of the ISON board,

Floor Dikker
Secretary 2017/2018

Update

This month, we will organize our first activity for RAGweek. On Wednesday February 21 we will host an internationally themed pub quiz at Bar Ruygh. Ragweek will donate the revenue to two charity organizations. The first one being suicide prevention and the second one being ACNS Projecthulp which will provide financial, material, medical and social help to children at Sri Lanka. We hope to see you all there! Later this year we will organize a second activity for Ragweek, so stay tuned!

Also, we worked hard to launch our new website. From now on you can find us at www.ison.nu. Each month we will post our newsletter on the homepage so everyone can stay up to date with what we are doing. Each of our member organisations has its own page with a short introduction and contact information. Here you can also find our history, previous boards and information on what we actually do.

IFMSA - Nijmegen

Each month, we introduce one of our member organisations. This month: IFMSA - Nijmegen

International Federation of Medical Students' Associations (IFMSA) is an international network of (medical) students working to a common goal of improving global health. The non-profit organization also stimulates personal development of future professionals in the healthcare. IFMSA is active in 127 countries! We as IFMSA-Nijmegen organize different local activities. Our six standing committees has their own vision and focus points. We organize projects, courses and conferences to inform and create awareness regarding subjects as sexual health, human rights and organ donation. We offer courses which are additional to the medicine curriculum like courses about sign language and tropical medicine. Moreover, IFMSA-Nijmegen gives students the opportunities to do internships abroad and exchanges using the great international network of IFMSA. We make it possible for students to use and expand their knowledge and talents.

PS. We have just started our member recruitment. So would you like to become part of an amazing international organization? Contact us via uvi.nijmegen@ifmsa.nl. Deadline for application is 31 march. Below you can find our Facebook page and website for more information.
